PREFACE

This book features biographies of outstanding members of the Provo community, selected from the ranks of business and professional people, educators, and civic and political leaders. They are featured here because they have demonstrated outstanding leadership and professional achievement, or because they have given exceptional service. We publish this collection as a tribute to these people, with the hope that it will encourage participation by others in similar endeavors and inspire in them equal levels of achievement.

The information was gathered by means of direct communication with the biographee. Data forms were sent to all candidates. The information they supplied was included as completely as possible within the boundaries of editorial and space restrictions. Our staff has made no attempt to validate the information submitted and assumes no responsibility for such.

The criteria for selection of biographies for this book were not as rigid as Who's Who in America or other national registers. Our aim was to include a broader range of people who have contributed to the community, including people who either live or work in Provo. Listing in this volume was not contingent on the purchase of a copy of the book; we did not offer it for sale until after the biographies were selected and the book was printed.

There are, of course, others who deserve to be in this book. We either could not get sufficient biographical information about these people to do them justice, or because of modesty, they have requested that their biography not appear, and we have respected their wishes.
